Over 16,000 cars were stolen in Minnesota in 2022, representing more than $200 million in losses to victims.

The “Take Your Keys. Always.” campaign helps curb auto theft by reminding car owners to lock their cars and take their keys with them after they park, thus addressing the most common way cars are stolen in Minnesota.

For many people, having a car stolen can be a life-changing event, preventing them from getting to their job, taking their children to daycare, or managing other essential activities.

While metro auto thefts often make headlines, this is a statewide issue. No town or region is exempt from auto theft.

Even if your own car isn’t stolen, you are impacted. Increased auto thefts contribute to rising premiums for your auto insurance policies.

This campaign has been developed through the Minnesota Department of Commerce Fraud Bureau in collaboration with local law enforcement. We are asking car owners and drivers to join with us and take action to help prevent auto thefts.
